

Data Protection Policy

Document Owner: Madhulata Solutions

Effective Date: [Insert Date]

Version: 1.0

1. Purpose

Madhulata Solutions ("Company", "we", "our", or "us") is committed to protecting the confidentiality, integrity, availability, and lawful processing of personal information and client data entrusted to us.

This Data Protection Policy establishes the principles, responsibilities, and procedures for collecting, processing, storing, sharing, retaining, and securely disposing of personal and confidential information. It supports our commitment to maintaining client trust, protecting sensitive information, and complying with applicable data protection laws and contractual obligations.

2. Scope

This policy applies to:

- All employees
- Contractors
- Consultants
- Interns
- Temporary staff
- Third-party service providers processing data on behalf of Madhulata Solutions

This policy covers all personal and confidential data processed by the Company, including information stored in:

- Cloud platforms
- AI systems
- Internal applications
- Client systems
- Databases
- File storage services
- Email systems
- Backup systems
- Physical records

3. Definitions

Personal Data

Any information relating to an identified or identifiable individual.

Examples include:

- Name
- Email address
- Telephone number
- Government-issued identifiers
- Employment information
- Online identifiers
- Device identifiers

Sensitive Personal Data

Personal information requiring additional protection under applicable law.

Examples may include:

- Financial information
- Health information
- Biometric information
- Government identification numbers
- Authentication credentials

Client Data

Information provided or made accessible by clients for the purpose of delivering contracted services.

Processing

Any operation performed on data, including:

- Collection
- Recording
- Storage
- Organization

- Analysis
 - Modification
 - Sharing
 - Transmission
 - Retrieval
 - Deletion
 - Destruction
-

4. Data Protection Principles

Madhulata Solutions processes data according to the following principles.

4.1 Lawfulness

Personal data shall only be processed where there is a valid legal or contractual basis.

4.2 Fairness

Individuals shall be treated fairly, and personal data shall not be processed in ways that are misleading or inconsistent with the stated purpose.

4.3 Transparency

Individuals shall be informed about how their personal information is collected, used, stored, and shared through appropriate privacy notices and contractual documentation.

4.4 Purpose Limitation

Personal information shall only be collected and processed for specified, legitimate, and authorized business purposes.

4.5 Data Minimization

Only the minimum amount of personal data necessary to fulfill a legitimate business purpose shall be collected and processed.

4.6 Accuracy

Reasonable efforts shall be made to keep personal information accurate, complete, and up to date.

4.7 Storage Limitation

Personal information shall not be retained longer than necessary for legal, contractual, or business purposes.

4.8 Integrity and Confidentiality

Appropriate technical and organizational safeguards shall be implemented to protect data against unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, or destruction.

5. Categories of Data Processed

Depending on the nature of our services, Madhulata Solutions may process:

- Client contact information
- Employee information
- Vendor information
- Business communications
- Financial information
- Project documentation
- Source code
- AI prompts
- AI-generated outputs
- User account information
- Authentication data
- Application logs
- Technical documentation
- Website usage data

Sensitive personal data shall only be processed when necessary and authorized.

6. Lawful Processing

Personal data shall only be processed where supported by one or more of the following:

- Contractual obligations
- Legal obligations
- Legitimate business interests
- Individual consent

- Protection of legal rights
 - Other lawful bases permitted under applicable legislation
-

7. Data Collection

Information shall be collected through lawful and transparent means.

Whenever practical:

- Individuals shall be informed of the purpose of collection.
 - Collection shall be limited to information necessary for the intended purpose.
 - Unnecessary or excessive information shall not be requested.
-

8. Access Control

Access to personal and confidential data shall be limited to authorized individuals with a legitimate business need.

Access controls shall include, where appropriate:

- Role-based permissions
 - Least-privilege access
 - Multi-factor authentication
 - Periodic access reviews
 - Timely removal of access upon role changes or termination
-

9. Data Security

Personal information shall be protected using appropriate administrative, technical, and physical safeguards.

These safeguards may include:

- Encryption in transit
- Encryption at rest where appropriate
- Secure authentication mechanisms
- Network security controls
- Endpoint protection
- Backup and recovery procedures
- Security monitoring
- Audit logging

- Secure file transfer methods
-

10. AI Systems and Data Protection

As an AI consulting company, Madhulata Solutions may process client information through AI-assisted workflows.

When AI technologies are used:

- Client authorization shall be obtained where required.
 - Confidential information shall not be submitted to unauthorized public AI platforms.
 - AI-generated outputs shall be reviewed by qualified personnel before use where material impacts may arise.
 - Appropriate safeguards shall be applied to prompts, datasets, embeddings, vector databases, and model outputs.
 - AI systems shall be configured to minimize unnecessary exposure of personal or confidential information.
-

11. Data Sharing

Personal information may only be shared with:

- Authorized employees
- Approved contractors
- Trusted service providers
- Cloud infrastructure providers
- Professional advisers
- Regulatory authorities where legally required

Recipients shall be expected to protect personal information using appropriate contractual, technical, and organizational safeguards.

Personal data shall not be sold or disclosed for unauthorized commercial purposes.

12. International Data Transfers

Where personal information is transferred across national borders, Madhulata Solutions shall implement reasonable safeguards consistent with applicable legal and contractual requirements.

Cross-border transfers should only occur where appropriate protections are in place.

13. Data Retention

Personal information shall be retained only for as long as necessary to:

- Deliver contracted services
- Meet legal obligations
- Resolve disputes
- Protect legal interests
- Maintain required business records

Retention periods may vary depending on:

- Applicable law
- Client contracts
- Business requirements
- Regulatory obligations

14. Secure Disposal

When personal information is no longer required, it shall be securely disposed of using appropriate methods.

Examples include:

- Secure deletion of electronic records
- Cryptographic erasure where appropriate
- Secure destruction of physical documents
- Removal from backup systems in accordance with retention policies, where feasible

Disposal methods shall be designed to prevent unauthorized recovery of information.

15. Data Subject Rights

Subject to applicable law, individuals may have the right to:

- Access their personal information
- Request correction of inaccurate information
- Request deletion
- Restrict processing
- Object to certain processing activities
- Request data portability
- Withdraw consent where consent is the basis for processing

Requests shall be handled within reasonable timeframes and in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

16. Data Breach Management

Any actual or suspected loss, unauthorized disclosure, alteration, or compromise of personal information shall be reported immediately through the Company's incident reporting process.

Where required by law or contractual obligations, affected individuals, clients, or regulatory authorities shall be notified within applicable timeframes.

Appropriate corrective actions shall be taken to contain, investigate, and remediate the incident.

17. Responsibilities

Management

Management is responsible for:

- Supporting the implementation of this policy.
 - Providing appropriate resources.
 - Ensuring compliance with legal and contractual obligations.
-

Employees and Contractors

Personnel are responsible for:

- Protecting personal information.
 - Following Company policies and procedures.
 - Reporting suspected data breaches promptly.
 - Completing required security and privacy training.
 - Using approved systems for processing client and personal data.
-

Third-Party Service Providers

Third parties processing data on behalf of Madhulata Solutions shall maintain appropriate security and data protection measures consistent with contractual requirements.

18. Compliance

Failure to comply with this policy may result in disciplinary action, suspension of access privileges, termination of employment or engagement, contractual remedies, or other actions as appropriate under applicable laws and Company policies.

19. Policy Review

This policy shall be reviewed at least annually or whenever there are significant changes to:

- Business operations
- Technology
- Legal or regulatory requirements
- Client contractual obligations
- Information security practices

Updates shall be approved by authorized management.

20. Contact Information

Questions regarding this Data Protection Policy may be directed to:

Madhulata Solutions

Email: privacy@madhulatasolutions.com

Website: <https://www.madhulatasolutions.com>

21. Governing Law

This Data Protection Policy shall be governed by the applicable laws and regulations of the jurisdictions in which Madhulata Solutions operates, unless otherwise required by law or contractual agreement.